

Apps & Programs to Support Independence & Mastery in a Blended Learning Model

Heather Loree, Connect 2017

 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Lesson/Content Delivery - Interactive - Self-paced - Accountability - Make your own or pre-made 	 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Screen Capture Tool - Lessons - Lab instructions - Reading articles - Project explanations - Edit Tools ($15/yr)
 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Interactive Whiteboard - Individualized expression of learning - Record, capture, annotate, create - Assess process & final product 	 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Mastery Checks - Low-stakes quizzes - Multiple attempts - Instant feedback
 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Digital Portfolio - Timely feedback - Document learning - Individualized tasks - Group discussions & collaboration 	 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Student Video Response - Verbalize answers - See thought process - Time limit - Assign individually or to class
 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Teaching Notes & Annotations - Document conversations, observations... - Record specific data continually <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - examples, extra help, questions, progress 	 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Interactive PDF tool - Reads text to students - Annotate, mark up and save files - Import PDF files almost anywhere - Can leave voice notes throughout
  <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Interactive Simulations - Math & science - Analyzing data - Introduction, review, extra practice... - Variety of levels 	 <h2>Educational Games</h2> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Game Based Learning - Create own games - Students play variety of games - Continue to improve scores 